

[illegible]

A 3D schematic diagram of a microfluidic chip. It shows a green inlet channel on the left and an orange outlet channel on the right. The chip has a complex internal structure with various channels and chambers. The inlet channel is labeled 'Inlet' and the outlet channel is labeled 'Outlet'.

